

Implix policy on cookies

Whenever you visit websites belonging to Implix Sp. z o.o. ("Properties") or use our mobile applications, Implix servers automatically collect information about the use of the Properties. This information includes, among others: (i) the name of the domain and host from which you access the Internet, (ii) the IP address of a computer or Internet service provider you use, (iii) the operating system you use (such as Mac OS, Windows), (iv) your browser version (e.g. Mozilla Firefox, Internet Explorer, Opera), (v) the name of the website that redirected you to our website, (vi) the type of device you are using. This allows us to determine the date of your visit to our website, track your movements on our website and record the time you spend viewing each Web page. This information helps us determine your browsing habits, content preferences and specific pages you visit.

Cookies

Like many other commercial websites, we send to your device one or more "cookies" (small text files sent to your browser that may be stored on your device so we can recognize you when you visit us again). Specifically, we use two types of cookies:

a) Session cookies — these are assigned to the user during the login process and are automatically deleted when the user logs out or closes their browser. We use session cookies primarily to determine the login status of users of our services. The purpose is to ensure that our users are able to view Web pages they are entitled to access in connection with the use of our website or services.

b) Persistent cookies — these remain even after you close your browser. You can delete them manually.

We also may receive information about you when you visit our website by clicking a link located on the website of a third party. Owners of these websites can give us contact information and information stored in the cookies they use on their websites. Third parties assign a session "cookie ID" to help you navigate through our websites. Please note that the use of cookies by third parties is not covered by this Implix Privacy Policy. We have no access to or control over these cookies.
